
UI Appeal

IMPORTANT - READ CAREFULLY

If you are appealing more than one determination, you must file a separate appeal for each.

Your hearing notice providing the date, time and location will be mailed.

You should Print or Download a copy of the Appeal and Confirmation for your records.

While your appeal is under review, continue to file weekly claim certification until the appeal process is over.

Start to prepare your case now. Do not wait until you receive a hearing notice. If you have documents that you want to be considered, please send them immediately.

A request to withdraw your appeal can be made at any time online, by mail, fax, or calling the hearing office. Only the party who requested the hearing (the appellant) may withdraw. If withdrawn, no further proceedings will be scheduled in this matter.

If you have additional questions regarding your appeal, view the "Attending a UI Hearing" instructions from the General Information menu on the Home page.

Appeal Reason

Please explain the reason why you disagree with the determination.

I disagree.

Late Appeal Reason

This appeal is late because it was not filed within 14 days of the determination date.

Explain your reason in the box below. Your reason determines if a hearing will be held or if your appeal will be dismissed without a hearing.

Please explain the reason why your appeal is late.

I never received a copy of the initial determination, as it was mailed to the wrong address. When I called the Department, I was told to ignore this denial and file a new initial claim. So, I waited another month as I tried to file a new initial claim.
